Believe Survivors

a zine by SASS

Published
April 2026

what does a land acknowledge mean in a zine?

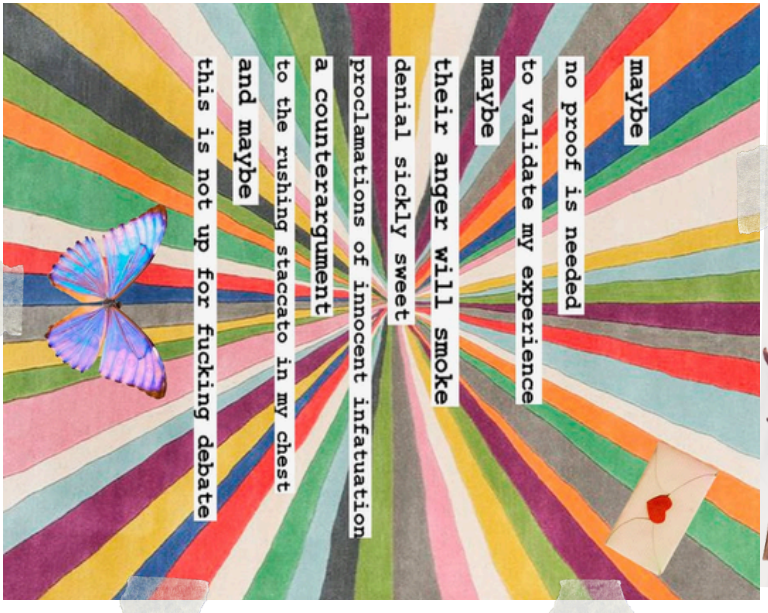
it means not ignoring the violence of colonization. it means we commit to solidarity with Indigenous peoples the world over. it means we know gender and sexual violence are part and parcel to colonization itself.

SASS operates in so-called eugene, oregon — the lands of the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde, Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians, Kalapuya, Chelamela, Winefelly, Cayuse, Umatilla, and Walla Walla peoples.

← Scan this QR code to see whose land you're on

Never forget that Two-Spirit and trans people have existed longer than the United States of America

This zine is for survivors of sexual violence.
This zine is for loved ones of survivors.
This zine is for those who want to speak out and those who don't.
This zine is for survivors looking for support and those who feel like there isn't any hope.
This zine has some resources.
This zine is also a testament that whatever you feel about your experience is valid.



Cut out this card and use at a medical facility to assert your boundaries!

To medical staff at

_____

Please Read!

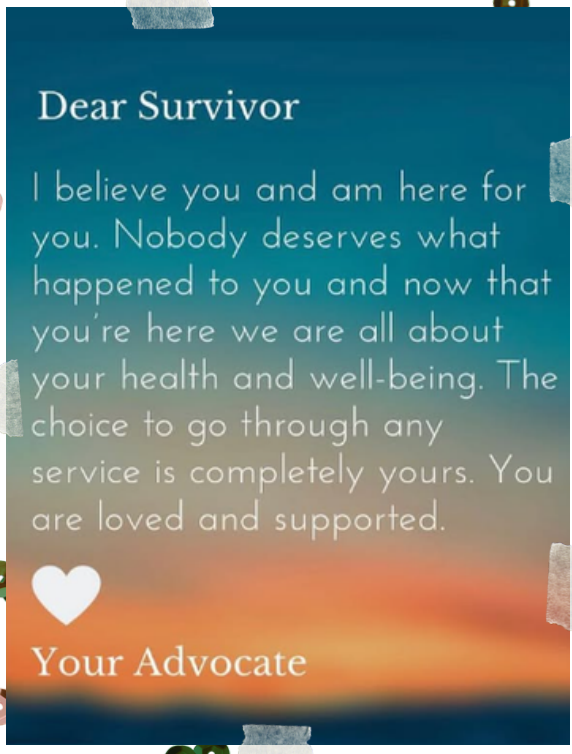
SASS Crisis & Support Line:
541-343-7277 or sass-lane.org

My name is _____ and I am a survivor of sexual violence. Trauma informed care is important to me. I may need extra support during my appointment today. Please ask/check-in before touching me.
Other things I may need to feel safe are:

_____

_____

_____



SASS provides free confidential advocacy for survivors. At SASS, "advocacy" means providing support for people as they work through trauma, deal with systems, and work towards healing. Our trained advocates listen without judgment, offer emotional support and accurate information, and provide assistance through our 24/7 crisis and support line, medical and legal advocacy, and support groups. SASS also supports family and friends by helping them understand how to support survivors while addressing their own feelings and challenges.

VISIT OUR WEBSITE HERE